

The uncertainty of the last several weeks has been a strain on us all. During moments of crisis, we have found that reflecting on our past can help to provide clarity and direction towards our future.

Since our founding during the latter half of World War II, Laval Underground Surveys has stood along-side groundwater professionals through some of the most difficult times our world has encountered. Today is no different.

While others step back, you are on the front lines of helping to deliver the clean, reliable water that is the very lifeblood of our nation. With that in mind, we are making a commitment to you, our loyal customers. We are with you.

Laval Underground Surveys is currently operating at full capacity. Our team is ready, willing, and able to provide you with any sales or technical related support on our entire portfolio of borehole camera systems, well rehabilitation chemicals, and water quality testing kits.

Over the last 75 years, a core tenant that has sustained us during times of adversity has been our entrepreneurial spirit. A belief that if you work hard, commit yourself to continuous improvement, and never forget who you work for, success will find you. It is a belief that is shared by so many of you, our loyal customers, across the country and throughout the world. It is this unwavering sense of optimism and commitment to hard work that will see us through.

Make no mistake, this crisis will pass. We will prevail.

Our Best,
Laval Underground Surveys
